Summarized Insights

The client emphasized the importance of a database within the website. It has been noted that the client has permission from another agency to use their database. Therefore, the website requirement is a button that links to that database. This also applies to the sign-up portion of the website. As for the aesthetic aspect of our prototype, the client stated that he liked the heading, however it could be more concise regarding the repetition between the menu and the content below. Ways to improve the layout include less images, potentially test a circle shape but the client does like the pictures. It was suggested that we reduce the images to include only the Repair Cafe, Smash Lab, and the Pollinator. The colours of our website were of value, however it was mentioned that the contrast between different sections should be increased and to consider the placement.

It was instructed that the mobile version of our website will include a hamburger menu to reduce crowding and ensure the menu does not become two lines of text. The capitalization was another topic of discussion, all menu items are to be fully capitalized. The graphics were a strong point in our prototype, especially when used as buttons to assist in navigation.
